Mrs. E. J. Davis Passes In 92nd Year

BELOVED MOTHER MOURNED BY ENTIRE COMMUNITY

Death came on Friday, April 24, to Mrs. E. J. Davis of Newmarket, widow of the late Honourable E. J. Davis, in her 92nd year.

Mrs. Davis was one of the oldest residents in North York and had spent her entire life in that community. She was born October 24, 1849, in King Township and was the eldest daughter of David Johnston, one of the early Scottish pioneers of the district. Prior to her marriage to the late E. J. Davis on October 29, 1874, she taught school in King Township. After her marriage, she took up residence with her husband in a small cottage near the old Kinghorn Tannery where E. J. Davis was carrying on the leather business of A. Davis & Son in partnership with his father the late Andrew Davis.

After the withdrawal of Andrew Davis from the business, Mr. and Mrs. Davis moved into the old Davis home at Kinghorn where they resided from 1885 to 1904 when the family moved to Newmarket. During this period E. J. Davis was active in the political life of the province being a member of the Legislature from 1888 to 1904 and a member of the Cabinet from 1896 until his retirement. While her husband was thus engaged, the late Mrs. Davis devoted

FINAL TOXOID CLASS MONDAY MAY 4

Last fall there was a general toxoid clinic held in all the different schools of the town and without undue persuasion there were about 150 children toxoided. As there were not many pre-school children done, and because many missed one or more doses, another clinic was put on this spring, and, as usual, quite a number were prevented from completing the course, some on account of unfavorable weather, sickness or absence from town, so that it is necessary to hold another meeting next Monday, May 4, from 4 to 5 p.m. at the office of the M.O.H. where all cases will be given the final dose.

At the first of these clinics there were 85 children done, and the most of them were pre-school age. When they all have completed the course, they will be immune from what acknowledged to be the most dreaded disease of childhood, and that immunity is supposed to last for a period of five years. Another reinforcing dose is recommended for the pre-school child when she starts school, and this will probably carry her through for life.

Then if all you youngsters who have missed a dose, if you will kindly be at the office of the M.O.H. any time between 4 and 5 next Monday afternoon, the doctor and the nurse will take care of you.

Canadian Bomber Gives Two Nazi Trains Hot Time

SERGT. GEORGE GERMAIN IN ON RAID

The following article, which appeared in last night's Star, will be of interest to Sgt. George Germain's many friends.

With the RCAF, Somewhere in England, April 29—Canadian airmen on an RAF bomber squadron gave the crews of two German freight trains a hot time during a moonlight attack on railway traffic near Lingen.

Two bombers scored hits on the trains both with bombs and machine-guns and one was left emitting smoke of steam from its full length.

The airmen were Sergts. Fred S. Hiley, Toronto; and William John Kaufman, Kitchener, pilots; Sergts. G. H. Germain, Newmarket, Ont., and Ronald Stewart, Coals Island, N.B., navigators; Sgt. G. C. Laroche, North Bay, Ont., gunner, and Flight Sgt. William David Frost, Vancouver wireless operator.

"House lights came on as we passed over Holland," Hiley reported, "and went out a few minutes later."

Pickering College 100th Anniversary Celebrated

DR. A. DORLAND REVIEWS HISTORY OF INSTITUTION

To mark the founding of Pickering College, one of Ontario's oldest educational institutions, more than 200 one-time students, parents and friends attended a special centenary reunion in the school gymnasium Saturday.

Sir William Mulock, who laid the corner stone of the present main building and of Firth House, and whose boyhood home is about a stone's throw from the school, was among the guests at the head table. He recalled boyhood reminiscences.

Dr. Arthur Dorland, professor of history at Western University, London, and a one-time student of Pickering, was guest speaker.

"Many of the ideals and educational methods pursued in the principles of Pickering College can be traced back to early English and American Quakerism," declared Dr. Dorland.

Dr. Dorland told his audience that the history of the schools falls into four distinct periods, the first period was in the establishment of the school at West Lake, near the

Hitler Underestimated Russian Power

NEW MANAGER AT CHAINWAYS

"Russia was determined to stay out of this war so that she would have the balance of power and be able to cast the deciding vote as to the future of the world," Prof. R. M. Saunders, professor of European history at the University of Toronto, told the Lions club at the King George hotel on Tuesday evening. H. J. Luck introduced the speaker. President W. M. Cockburn was in the chair.

"Russia was suspicious of every other great power," Prof. Saunders said. "All other powers regarded Russia as a danger centre of revolution."

"In the 1930's Russia, having ended the duel between Stalin and Trotsky, entered into a policy of national development rather than world revolution. "Exclusion of Russia from the conference table at Munich renewed all Russia's suspicions. She became convinced that Britain and France were trying to engineer a war between Russia and Germany. "When at the end of August, 1939, it was announced that Russia and Germany had signed a non-aggression pact the world was astonished. The agreement was made by Germany because Germany did not want to fight a war on two fronts. Russia was determined to stay out of war but was convinced that Germany was the nation most likely to attack her. Russia took advantage of German invasion of Poland to invade Poland, make war on Finland and to take over the Baltic states, to deepen her defences.

"The Nazi attack on Russia came as a greater surprise than the Russian-German pact. Germany had gone down into the Balkans to save Italy, and in so doing was forced to fight Yugoslavia. Germany overran Greece, defeated Britain in Greece and Crete. Germany was driving Britain back in Libya. Things looked good for Germany. Germany conceived the idea of moving down on Suez and cutting the British life-line. Hitler planned the Mesopotamia and Syria uprisings. Britain nipped this in the bud. Hitler could not keep his armies idle. He had promised victories and so he turned on Russia. For 1,000 years Germany has turned on the Slavs whenever she was strong enough.

"In Mein Kampf Hitler had said that if Germany could get Russia's resources she would be the dominant world power. The Russians believed Mein Kampf and prepared for it. The Russians hadn't done well in the Finnish war. The Germans could make a long attack on Russia. Britain couldn't get help to Russia.

"Germany wasn't afraid of Britain opening an air front on Germany because the Germans realized that their air attack on Britain hadn't had real effect. Germany's industries were spread out more than Britain's. Also Germany could cry that she was saving the world from communism. She believed that by the beginning of last winter German forces

Necessity Of Religious Education Stressed

HOME & SCHOOL CLUB RECEIVE REPORTS OF DELEGATES

The April meeting of the Newmarket Home and School Association was held Tuesday evening in the Stuart Scott school. Very helpful and interesting reports were brought by the delegates to the convention of Ontario Federation of Home and School Association held at the Royal York Hotel April 6-7.

Mrs. Seldon's report dealt with music appreciation in the school, and the important part music plays in the life of both child and adult, particularly in war time. Since the majority of people are listeners rather than actual musicians, it is very important that children be taught the art of listening attentively and appreciatively to music. Mrs. Seldon demonstrated the use of her electric Sparton Victrola and records recommended for school use by the department of education. A group of students representing Mr. Purdy's class sang a number of very fine selections as taught them by Mrs. Seldon, director of music for the town's public schools.

Miss Holladay reported on radio and its use in the schools. School broadcasting has proved its worth and is firmly established in Great Britain (where it is used in 10,000 schools, the U.S.A. and six of the provinces of Canada. Ontario has as yet no provincial provision of school broadcasts. It is served only by the broadcasts offered through the school of the air of the Americas (CBS) and through such experimental broadcasts as those on "The Birth of Freedom" recently provided by the CBS and the CCEC.

The OBC has done valuable public service in the promotion of school radio in Canada and there should be a response in Ontario

TWO REMANDED IN CUSTODY ON THEFT CHARGE

Clarence Sedore and Mrs. Winifred Handy, charged by County Constable William Hill with theft of an auto, the property of Duncan Tillett of Roche's Point, were remanded in custody one week by Magistrate W. E. McIvlen at the local police court Tuesday. Bail was set at $500.

John Joseph Lawlor of King pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal possession and was fined $10 and costs or 10 days.

"I noticed this man going up Yonge Street with a part bottle of wine in his pocket," testified Constable Aubrey Fleury. "He had been drinking and was kind of noisy on the street."

"I'm sorry for what I did and won't do it any more," said accused. "I didn't intend to open the bottle until I got home."

John McDonald of Barrie, charged with speeding by Constable Ferguson, was fined $17 including costs.

George Courtney of Schomberg, charged by Constable Ronald Watt with having bad brakes, was fined $10 and costs.

William Lunney of Woodbridge, charged with speeding by Constable Mount, was fined $4.25 and costs.

ONLY 170 NO'S IN NEWMARKET

With a total vote of 17,548 out of a possible 29,712 York North gave a decided "yes" vote at the polls on Monday. Throughout the whole constituency only 1,885 voted "no," 170 of these being from Newmarket. It is regrettable that over 12,000 did not value their franchise enough to mark a ballot. The following is the results tabulated by Victor Hall, returning officer.

MISS JEAN DAVIS IS GUEST ARTIST

With half proceeds going to the Red Cross, $156.16, was realized from the two evenings' entertainment Thursday and Friday last sponsored by the St. Paul's Ladies' Aid and directed by Mrs. A. N. Belugin.

The dance, "Awakening of Spring," caught the fancy of the audiences and received a hearty encore both evenings. This number was superb, the costumes, acting and music blending with perfect harmony. The Lady Bugs, Diana Lockhart and Noreen Seythes, and Robert Lockhart and Wayne Robinson as Bumble Bees, were exceptionally cute, and stole the show. Others in this well-trained group were Mary Robinson, Dorothy Sugden, Dorothy Seythes, Vera Belugin, Melba Lockhart, Margaret Fraser, Isobel Cody, Peggy King, Joyce Marwood, Bernice Scott, Kay Marwood, Elaine Robinson, Mary Bothwell, Pearl Gunn and Barbara Pritchard.

The Hungarian dance, with brilliant costumes and gay music, was another number of merit.

220th York Rangers Hold 6th Annual Banquet

CAPTAIN AUBREY DAVIS HOST TO WAR PALS

The sixth annual banquet of this association was held Saturday, April 25, at the Prince George Hotel, Toronto.

It was also the 25th anniversary of the departure of the battalion overseas. Since its inception this annual function has been looked forward to as the one big chance each year for the country boys to fraternize with their old comrades from the city, so much so that 151 members sat down to a splendid dinner and social evening.

Visitors from some of the older battalion association who were present expressed amazement at such a large turnout and were great in their praise of the evident fine comradeship which prevailed. Their great and good friend, Capt. Aubrey Davis, was sadly missed from his usual place at the head table. Tribute was paid to him for his great efforts in keeping the boys together, and it was as guests of his that this event was held this year, and for the past four years, and Col. B. H. Brown expressed the sincere sympathy of all at the passing of his venerable mother, who was always one of the battalion's best friends and well wishers. His chair was left vacant for the evening.

Mr. John Collingwood Reade, the well-known radio commentator and writer, gave a most interesting address on "The War as I Saw It in Britain." He drew attention to the great part the motherland and the rest of the empire was playing in this war, and made clear what might have happened had Britain not stood fast in the year that followed the fall of France.

He solicited questions from his audience, and the boys of York County soon made it plain by these how closely they were following the different details of the year.

A collection taken up in aid of the British War Victims' Fund realized the sum of $50. The toast to our fallen comrades was very beautifully given by Padre Rev. A. (Continued on Page 4, Col. 4)

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Canada has spoken in no uncertain manner and the Government of Mackenzie King is now free, not necessarily to enforce conscription, but to enforce it if necessary. The sad part of the whole affair is that less than one-half of those who were entitled to vote did not think it worth their while to go to the polls. Yet some of these residents of Canada (not Canadians) have the gall to boast, "You didn't see me voting, did you?" What wonderful examples of what Hitler would have us do and would take away from us—and we mean every last one of you who did not mark a ballot.

Last week a French Canadian speaker, at a meeting in Toronto attended by several from town, made a statement to the effect that if the politicians and the press were shot French Canada would prove herself. We doubt if the speaker was thinking about the weekly press as the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association, with over five hundred members from coast to coast, have learned with close personal contact with their fellow-editors in Quebec some of the problems and the ceaseless efforts from various sources that help create this feeling between the French and English-speaking Canadians. For example, we quote from one of Canada's leading dailies, and also from one of Canada's outstanding weeklies. The daily commented editorially: "Mr. King has spent $1,500,000 to prove that Quebec does not march with Canada on this issue. That was generally understood before. He is still bound to Quebec by his 'sacred pledge' if he ever was so bound. The rest of the country asks, 'What now, Mr. King?'" while the weekly stated, and we quote: "And while a large section of the Canadian people did record a negative vote, particularly those of French Canadian descent, it is a well known fact that behind the negative vote recorded was the wish to retain all forces at home to defend the home land. The French Canadian has a deep rooted love for his home-land and out of that love will come the resolve—it is already there—that they will stand side by side with the other people who make up the population of the Dominion in steadfast opposition to those forces that would seek to make Canada another slave state—and its people slaves. Canada has no need to fear that the French Canadian is less loyal to the Dominion than those of other racial origins. That will be amply proven when the battles must be fought—and won."

Which think you is in the interest of A United Canada?

THE BLIND AND THE WAR

According to a report made the other day by Lindsay Williamson, supervisor of employment for The Canadian National Institute for the Blind in Ontario, there are twenty-two blind or partially-blind men and women engaged in war industry in Ontario. Six men and three women are employed in assembling parts of war machines in some of Canada's largest industrial plants.

In a factory in a small Ontario town, there is a young lady gauging fuses. In another plant, there is a man filing off the rough edges of shell-castings. The few wooden parts incorporated in the modern warplane must be perfect, and in one great aeroplane works not far from Toronto there is a blind man regularly employed on a hand-sanding operation. There are men working at drill-presses and milling machines, and in several of the new warplants the restaurant is operated by The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, with a trained blind operator in charge.

The war has provided some employment for a few blind workers, but it has hardly solved the problem of blindness. In addition to finding employment for capable blind workers, The C.N.I.B. conducts a series of services which help to make life worth living for those who are in the unemployable group. During the twenty-four years in which The Institute has been functioning, the lives of hundreds of blind people have been transformed by the services which The Institute was able to bring to them. Those services have been continued through the years of prosperity, the years of depression, the years of peace and the years of war, and will be continued. The Institute needs the help of the public to carry on its great work. In Newmarket on May 2 there will be a tag day in aid of the blind.

NOTE AND COMMENT

In the past few days Newmarket has lost a lawyer, a high school teacher, a business executive and several younger men with positions of promise to the active service forces. We should appreciate the sacrifices these citizens of ours are making.

Never judge a person by his outside appearance. A shabby old coat may enwrap a newspaper publisher while a man wearing fine clothes and sporting a gold-headed cane, may be a delinquent subscriber.

Another weekly editor has joined the ranks of Canada's active army, this time Captain Angus (Gus) Dobbie, of Smith Falls. "Gus" is a past president of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association, and an all-round good fellow.

A man who possessed more money than brains was once complimented on his good sense by one who desired a favor of him. Among the company was a lady who possessed more brains than money. "I don't wonder," she remarked to her neighbor, "at his having a large stock of good sense, for he never squanders any."—Winchester Press.

ECHOES FROM THE SANCTUARY

(This column is dedicated to the task of bringing a little of the church to those who are shut-in. Its main content will be the pith or kernel of one or other of the sermons given on the previous Sunday).

By Rev. Arthur Greer

An echo from the evening worship of last Lord's Day.

The writer asks his shut-in friends to open their Bibles at the Gospel of St. Luke, chapter 13: 9-14. There we read the gripping story that Jesus told a pharisee and a publican at prayer.

In our sermon of Sunday evening, we called these men "The snob and the sinner." The dictionary tells us that a snob is "A haughty individual who despises others he considers inferior." Verse 9 of this chapter tells us that Jesus spoke this parable "To certain which trusted themselves that they were righteous, and despised others." Note the startling similarity of those two phrases, and you will understand why we called the pharisee a "snob." We called the publican a "sinner" because that was the title he gave himself; but the query of the sermon was "Which was the greater sinner?"

Look at the pharisee. He sweeps through Jerusalem with his head held high, and enters the Temple as if he owned the place. He selects the choicest and most conspicuous place in the Temple for his devotions (?). Then he STANDS and prays. According to the standards of men, he is an outstanding example of a good and religious man. But somehow or other, we resent him; we just can't stomach the fellow.

Mind you, the pharisee has certain undisputable good points. For example, he is DEEPLY RELIGIOUS. He attends strictly to his fasting and praying; he is always in his place, at church, and devoted to all his religious duties.

Moreover, he is CLEAN AND UPRIGHT IN HIS DAILY LIFE. He is not afraid to state in the house of God that he is not an "extortioner, unjust, or an adulterer." He pays the regular scale of wages. He is fair and square in business, and meets all his debts on the due day. He has not dragged his orange blossoms in the dust, but has faithfully kept all his marriage vows.

We also find that he was LIBERAL IN HIS GIVINGS TO THE CHURCH, giving "tithes of all he possessed." Jesus approved of his strict religious principles, and of his clean living. Jesus approved of his tithing, too. And the people of Jerusalem were aware of these good points, and gave the pharisee their sincere respect.

Now look at the publican. He is a cat's paw of the Roman government, whose sordid task is to extract taxes from his own people for the foreign power that rules them. You might even call him a fifth-columnist. He dare not stand in a public place and say he was no extortioner, for in all likelihood he had robbed some of the very people who were worshipping in the Temple that day. This man was a social outcast, made to squirm beneath the very bottom rung of the social ladder.

Here we have a glimpse of these two men standing side by side. Which would YOU choose? Did you say the publican? I doubt it very much. I'll guarantee that an overwhelming majority would select the pharisee. Yet Jesus compared them, and He placed the pharisee on the dark side of the ledger. He must have had a good reason for doing so, and that reason you will discover as you consider their prayers. When a man prays aloud, he lays bare his heart before God and men, and the prayers of these two men give us a clear picture of their hearts and minds.

The Pharisee's Prayer:—"Lord, I thank Thee that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican." I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all I possess." What a prayer! Note that Jesus did not say this pharisee prayed to God. He addressed God, but Jesus said he "stood and prayed WITH HIMSELF." In that prayer there was not the smallest vestige of penitence, love for God, petition for spiritual help, or help of any kind. As far as I can see, there was no religious emotion whatever.

There was plenty of CONCEIT. He said he was not like other men, but he deceived himself, for in all fundamental respects, he WAS like other men, even like the publican standing in an obscure corner nearby.

There was SELF-LOVE in that prayer. It was a congratulatory message to himself, and to God if God would listen, on his own achievements. Poor, destitute fellow! He may have been respected, but I don't think many people would love him, for we usually bestow our love on those who have forgotten to love themselves.

What would that Pharisee have thought had he known that his prayer did not cause a ripple in heaven, while the prayer of the publican was causing the angels of heaven to lift their hallelujahs because a sinner was knocking at the door with repentance and a prayer for mercy?

The Publican's Prayer:—Dr. Wm. Taylor wrote "When the heart is stirred, it speaks in telegrams." This publican smote upon his repentant breast, and sent an S.O.S. to heaven. There were no preliminaries. There weren't even any people around as far as this sinner was concerned. He had no eyes for the pharisee. He had no thought for the sin in others. The only factors in his universe at that moment were "God—and the sinner," he himself being the sinner.

The Answers to their Prayers:—After all, it is the response they bring which finally stamps the value of our prayers.

The pharisee's prayer went unanswered because it was unanswerable. He was entirely satisfied with himself, and was telling God that He ought to be satisfied too.

The publican's prayer was answered because he came with penitence, acknowledged himself a sinner, and sought that which God loves most of all to give—mercy.

"I tell you," said Jesus, "that publican went down to his house justified rather than the other; for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted."

The grocers of Newmarket have agreed that after Monday, April 30th, they will not call for, canvass or solicit any order for groceries, fruits or provisions, and have affixed their signatures to said agreement for the faithful observance of the same.

Not more than ten citizens attended the nomination meeting held in the Town Hall on Monday evening. The nomination was to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William Collingwood. Only four men were nominated, as follows: Freeman Lloyd, W. E. Lyons, Ed. Richardson and Stanley Osborne. The last three withdrew and Freeman Lloyd becomes the new councillor.

CHARLIE ROWNTREE RECEIVES PRESENTATION

Charlie Rowntree, resident of town for the past nine years, who leaves on May 1 for his farm near Woodbridge, was presented with a beautiful mantle clock by B.A. dealers in the district, and a group of local friends Monday evening.

John Henderson, district representative, made the presentation and told of the faithful fourteen years of service Charlie had given B.A. Oil, as well as his active participation in lacrosse as a goal-keeper, and as a hockey coach, both in Aurora and Newmarket. Roy Middlebrook of Armitage was the guest speaker of the evening.

Previous to presentation the 25 men present showered their friend with spare parts of harness, implement parts etc.

Pte. Tom Burke of the Irish Regiment, home on furlough from Halifax, favoured the group with several bagpipe tunes which were par excellent.

"THUMB" RIDE LAND IN CELLS

When they tried to "thumb" a ride with County Constable William Hill, west of Sutton, early Sunday morning, Clarence Sedore, 25, and Mrs. Winnifred Handy, both of Aurora, were arrested and charged with automobile theft.

The pair were picked up by the constable a short distance from the overturned car they are charged with stealing. Constable Hill said that a blowout evidently caused the stolen car to leave the road and overturn in the ditch. A second charge of car theft was laid against the pair at No. 1 police station in Toronto, where they were taken.

Constable Hill was investigating another complaint when he heard that the car had been stolen. He said he came upon Sedore and Mrs. Handy, covered with mud, near the spot where the car crashed. They had evidently been walking in the field near the car, and had returned to the road, he said.

The second charge against the pair concerns a car stolen from Sutton three weeks ago. It was found in Aurora.

"BUSY B" CLUB MAKE SHIPMENT FOR OVERSEAS

A display that outlived any church bazaar met our view when the Express-Herald was privileged to look over the articles of wearing apparel made by the members of the "Busy B" club to send to England.

The following list of babies' apparel, practically all hand made, is the result of six weeks' work. Another such contribution will be made in the next same period: 15 nightgowns, 15 slips, 15 shirts, 10 knitted sets, 10 crib pads, 5 blankets, 4 pairs knitted stockings, 90 diapers; also 10 ladies' nightgowns, 5 bath towels and one girl's wool sweater.

Members of the club are Mrs. A. Lee, (president), Mrs. R. Bunn, Mrs. C. Wass, Mrs. F. Cass, Mrs. R. Black, Mrs. J. Ash, Mrs. E. Perrin, Mrs. H. Moore and Mrs. J. McDonald.

ST. ANDREW'S MISSION BAND

Observe 50th Anniversary

The service of the 50th anniversary, commemorating the founding of the Mission Band in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held April 19. The actual anniversary was March 7, but our minister being away on sick leave at that time, it was held over until this later date.

The following is a brief history of the Mission Band as read by Mary Lou Little at this service.

"The Busy Bees Mission Band is an auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society. The aim of mission bands is to unite the children of the church in prayer and in service for children at home and in other lands. Our motto is 'The World For Christ,' and our text, 'Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel.'"

Our history is not complete as the minute books are missing up to 1924, but from information given us by Misses Annie and Margaret Morrison we have been able to trace the following facts and names of our leaders. Any errors or omissions have not knowingly been made, and we would appreciate corrections and leaders' names that have been omitted.

"On March 7, 1892, the Mission Band was organized by Miss Nellie Forsyth, under the name of 'The Faithful Workers.' There were seven honorary members and 22 ordinary members. The meetings were held twice a month, on the second and fourth Saturdays. The officers were: Miss Nellie Forsyth, president; Miss Morton, 1st vice; Miss Ada Rogers, 2nd vice; Miss Katy Wesley, treasurer; Miss Etta Bastedo, secretary; Miss Marion Rennie, pianist; Miss Jessie Dickson, assistant; look-out committee, Misses Bertie Wesley, Norine Wilson, Thurza Trivett, Pearly Fletcher.

"During the years the work has continued with varying interest and now follows our Honour Roll of Leaders, under the name of Faithful Workers: Miss Nellie Forsyth, Mrs. Western, Mrs. Mann, Mrs. S. Booth. After the union of churches, Mrs. Gillman, renamed the Busy Bees under the leadership of Miss Isobel Rowland, leader for ten years. Mrs. D. McIntyre, Mrs. H. Leppard, Mrs. J. A. Koffend.

"In this our 50th anniversary the officers are: Bobby Koffend, president; Harold Simmons, vice-president; Mary Ellen McInnis, secretary; Grace Smith, treasurer; Mary Lou Little, pianist; Mrs. J. Cribbar, leader; Mrs. J. A. Koffend, assistant leader. There is a roll call of 21 members.

"A Junior Life Membership is given each year to the member with perfect attendance, and who has given his or her best services to the Band. There were six junior life memberships given on January 5, 1925, but the names were not entered in the minutes. What we have record of are: Mary Gillman, Jean Hamilton, Margaret Mathewson, Mary Rosamond, Elsie Mathewson, Margaret Shea, Beatrice Dillman, Bessie Mair, Margaret Hisey, Mary Shanks, Bruce Shanks, Irene Smith, Margaret McInnis, Mary Lou Little and for this year Pauline Longhurst."

On Monday afternoon, April 20, the W.M.S. gave the Mission Band children a birthday party, the main item of which was a huge cake with 50 candles on it. There were 20 members and 16 visitors present.

SUTTON BOYS WRITE HOME

The Sutton Field Comfort Club have received the following interesting letters of thanks from Gnr. H. Walker and Leon Smith, England.

Thurs., Mar. 19, 1942

Dear Ladies:

Just a few lines to let you know I received your ever welcome parcel of cigarettes today, and it seems that your cigarettes just arrive here at the right time, as I was on my last package. Cigarettes are so hard to get here, and they are not like our Canadian ones, so that's why we appreciate getting them sent to us from home.

Well, there isn't very much to tell you about over here as things are pretty quiet right now. We get a lot of raid alarms every week but so far we haven't been able to get a shot at any of the Jerry planes as each anti-aircraft battery has a certain territory, and you have to wait until they are in your territory before you can fire on them. We have had them fly in and right out again before we could even get a shot at them. However it seems that there are more coming over every night, so we will get a pop at them sooner or later. We are on a gun site not very far from London, and there is a nice little town right near us, in fact most of the sailors come in here when they are going on leave. There are big docks here and that's what we are protecting with our guns.

Anti-aircraft work is very interesting, and we never have a dull moment. We co-operate with the RAF and RCAF when there is action going on in the channel we see the planes going over our gun site and coming back again. It is a very pretty sight to see fifty or sixty bombers and spitfires going over your head.

We were called out five times last night with the air raid alarm. The only thing we don't get very much of is sleep. We just seem to get into bed when the alarm goes. Then it makes us mad when we can't get a shot at them. However it keeps us in trim running to our posts.

The weather here now is very wet. We have had rain for the last five days and nights, but it isn't very cold. The rain never seems to stay. They say it is like that over here for six weeks. I am going on my leave on March 31 for seven days to Scotland, so I am hoping it won't rain all the time.

Well ladies, I believe I have run out of news for now, so I will close with thanks a million for the cigarettes and the best of luck to you in your wonderful work. We appreciate it more than we can express in words. Keep up the good work and the best of luck to all the folks connected with the Fields Comfort Club and regards to the Sutton and Jackson's Point people.

As ever,

Johnnie Walker.

Overseas Service,
March 29, 1942.

Dear Club Members:

I am indeed a lucky fellow because last week I received 300 cigars and yesterday another parcel came from the Club with so many good things that I can't mention them all. I can tell you though what I did with the most of them. We have had a blitz on in cleaning up the barracks for a general inspection. Last night the most of the staff worked right through the supper hour so that we could be cleaned up for the fatigue party to do the floors and windows the next day. Three of us received parcels in the same mail, and we thought we would pool them and have a real feast later in the evening. We did this, and I was able to donate my share and more.

Out of the box you so kindly sent we had tomato juice, cheese, crackers, tea, sugar, milk and finished off with the large Jersey Milk chocolate bar. I missed supper again tonight being on duty, and I had sardines, tea, crackers and that whole tin of peaches. Boy do I feel stuffed, and also think that I have gained a considerable amount of that fresh fruit vitamin that we are all lacking since coming to this country.

I can't thank you enough for your kind thoughts and gifts, but if you had been able to see us dive into those parcels, and then witnessed our banquet last night you would have felt plenty proud of the work that you have been doing for the boys for so long.

Today is a typical mid-spring day as we know it. The trees are breaking out in bud and the sun has been shining quite strong and warm all day. There is a large playing field right beside our orderly room, and it has echoed with the shouts of those playing ball or football for the most of the day. As yet I have not played ball, but hope to this week as this unit has finally gotten to the stage where it can see over the top of its unfinished work. I am afraid I will be awfully stiff after.

Just for a break I walked out and looked across at them for a while. Bob Pugsley is playing right field and looks to be enjoying himself out there. We see quite a bit of each other, and it is nice that we are so close. I saw Bill Burrows the other night and he is certainly looking fit. He did marvelously on his course and his percentage was remarkably high. I was in hospital for over a week with a rather childish disease and it has a foreign name, German measles. Trust me eh?

I have come to believe that the people over here were responsible themselves for the rumors that came back to us in Canada re the 1st Div. It seems that some of the merchants or cafe owners short-changed some of the men on different occasions and those men merely took time to make themselves understood. It did not take long either, I understand. However, now they are all liked and the Canadians wherever they go are treated swell.

I have received 600 cigs. to date and the parcel yesterday from the Club as well as the pocket folder given to me before I left Sutton. You have done exceptionally well for me, and if the rest have been as well treated we certainly are lucky boys. The cigs. arrived almost at the same time as the parcel, and at first I wondered what had happened. They were forwarded to me while on course and had to be sent on again at the unit.

By the way, I have not received the results of my course, but am quite certain that they will be away below Bill's. I will sign off for now and wish the Club and all its members continued success. Many, many, many thanks for your kind thoughts and gifts.

Yours for victory,

F. Smith "Smitty."

HOLD HIGH THE TORCH OF FREEDOM

Helping To Keep Prices Reasonable

High taxes help to guard the country against unreasonable rises in the cost of living: They divert money from unnecessary spending for peace-time goods to Government spending for essential war-time material.

Saving money, practised by thousands of thrifty depositors has a similar effect: It helps to keep prices from soaring by decreasing the demand for non-essential, peace-time commodities.

Thus, when you save money in a savings account, you benefit yourself and the country. You will need to save, not only for family and personal emergencies, but to pay taxes and to buy war securities. Saving today is a patriotic service.

WHEN GOOD EYESIGHT IS SO VERY IMPORTANT...

... Even in ordinary times the man, woman or child who enjoys good eyesight—normal vision—has a great advantage over one handicapped by sub-normal eyes. But today when efficiency is so important in the war effort good eyesight is your patriotic duty. The better you see, the better your work.

... There is no excuse for allowing yourself to work with anything less than perfect vision. The right glasses correctly fitted, can make even below-par eyes function perfectly. Make sure about YOUR eyes. Have them scientifically examined NOW!

CORECTAL wide-angle-of-vision lenses are prescribed by the leaders of the profession in Canada. Unlike ordinary lenses, they give clear vision right to the very edge and cost no more than other lens lenses.

Weddings

BAGLER-SWEET

A pretty wedding was solemnized in Danforth Avenue United Church on Saturday evening, April 18, by Rev. C. W. Watch, when Miss Claire Isabel Sweet, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sweet of Holland Landing, became the bride of William Harvey Bagler, ROAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bagler.

The bride was in a dress of powder blue crepe made on princess lines with an off-the-face hat to match, and corsage of red roses. She was given in marriage by her father, and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Edward Loveday, who wore a beige dress with black hat and corsage of red roses. Mr. Edward Loveday assisted the groom.

A reception was held at the home of the groom where Mrs. J. R. Sweet and Mrs. W. Bagler received the guests, among whom were the grandmothers of both bride and groom, respectively. Mrs. S. Avarell and Mrs. A. Butten. After a short honeymoon, the couple will live in Brantford where the groom is with the ROAF.

herself to the home and to her five sons and two daughters, all whom survive her. The five sons in due course all entered the leather business and constitute the fourth generation of the Davis family to be engaged in the business which was started by their great-grandfather one hundred and seven years ago.

In addition to the love and care which Mrs. Davis bestowed upon her home, she was an ardent worker in the community, taking a keen and active interest in the church and school. She worked unceasingly for her family and the people of the district, and her name is revered by all who came in contact with her.

After the family moved to Newmarket in 1904, Mrs. Davis devoted herself to the welfare of the town, while retaining as far as practical her interest in the community which she had left.

In 1934, two years before the death of the late Honourable E. J. Davis, she suffered a stroke which left her a semi-invalid. However, she retained her keen mental faculties to the end.

She is survived by her two daughters, Mrs. Edith Davis Webb and Miss Mabel Davis, M.A., who is serving in England with the Red Cross, and by her five sons, Elmer and Harold Davis of Kingston, and Aubrey, Andrew and E. J. Davis Jr., of Newmarket. She is also survived by thirteen grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

The funeral on Monday was largely attended, and friends of the family from great distances were present at the church.

The service was in charge of Rev. Dr. Neal, for many years a close personal friend of the deceased. Dr. Neal was assisted by Dr. Rummels, both at the church and the cemetery services.

The pallbearers were grandsons, Kenneth of Perron; Aubrey of Amos; Harold Jr. of Kingston; Bruce P., of Toronto; and Ghent and Murray of Newmarket.

Sir William Mulock acted as honorary pallbearer.

The Newmarket Junior choir, under the leadership of Mr. Harris, very ably assisted in the service. Floral pieces numbering over one hundred were a loving tribute to a great woman.

AIRMAN IS MISSING

Word has been received that Charlie Morley, nephew of Mrs. Mont. Goslett, formerly of Newmarket, is missing after air operations over France. Charlie attended the local high school and is well known in town.

Social & Personal

Mrs. E. Spence of Delhi has been spending a few days in town with her father, Richard Travis and other relatives.

A.C. 2 Ivan Atkins was home from Manning Pool, Toronto, for the weekend.

Mr. Bill Jelley was home from North Bay for the weekend.

Cpl. Alec Mathewson was home from Camp Borden for the weekend.

Miss Clara Crowder, daughter of Mrs. H. U. Crowder, Millard Ave., who has been with her uncle Dr. D. Bagshaw, Toronto, as dental nurse for several years, has accepted a position with Dr. G. A. C. Gunton, Aurora, and commenced work on Monday of this week. Miss Crowder will now be nearer her mother, and while living in Aurora, will be home every weekend.

Mr. Will Brice of Ypsilanti, Mich., accompanied by his son, Donald, of the U.S.A. marine service, spent several days with his father, Mr. Walter Brice, Andrew St., who recently underwent an operation in York County Hospital. Mr. Will Brice and Donald left for their home on Monday.

Quite a few of Newmarket's younger manhood have left school to spend the summer helping on farms, by special arrangement of the school authorities.

Mrs. C. E. Peacey of Toronto spent last week visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Playter.

Nursing Sister Irene Ross of the ROCAF of Toronto spent the weekend with Miss Edith McClymont.

Mrs. J. W. Bowman and Carol Louise have been spending the past two weeks in Toronto.

A.C. 2 Archie Goring of the ROCAF is home on leave.

to the CBC's willingness to give free time studio facilities for school broadcasts. The most suitable subjects for school broadcasts in Ontario are music, history, science, health, social studies (including citizenship) and English.

It is hoped that in due course a provincial provision of school broadcasts in Ontario, supported by the Dept. of Education, will become feasible and in the meantime school broadcasts may continue to be provided for Ontario partly through the school of the air of the Americas (OBS) and the Damosch Hour (NRC); partly through the efforts of the CCEC and the CBC, and it is hoped that the fullest use possible will be made of them by the teachers of Ontario.

Mrs. Gilroy brought to the group a fine report on religious education.

Dr. Joblin, minister of Weston United Church, stressed the necessity of religion in the home and in civic life, and also felt there was a definite need of religious education in the schools. Dr. Joblin stated that delinquency is on the increase, and there is growing up around us a religiously illiterate race of people. In preaching it is impossible to refer to Biblical terms and passages without stopping first to make explanations of simple truths that should have been learned in childhood. This is partly due to the fact that the bible is not taught or read in the homes as formerly, and that attendance at Sunday school is not compulsory, and the twenty minutes of actual teaching time once a week is certainly inadequate for handling this very important part of a child's training.

The teacher has many opportunities for religious teaching such as daily reading of the scriptures, singing of hymns, the Lord's Prayer and memorization of scripture and by the teacher's attitude toward religion.

Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards also brought splendid reports on Home Education and Adolescent Education. This subject was taken by Dr. Currie, Professor of education of McGill University, and will appear in detail in a latter issue.

Mrs. Geo. Case reported on the programme at Hart House under the direction of O.E.A. She dealt with plays, costumes, verse speakers and choral speech, which was particularly interesting. Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards reported on Home Education and on Adolescent Education. This topic was taken by Dr. Currie, McGill University, and is of sufficient importance to appear in detail in the next issue.

P. Mahoney. Lights were dimmed and the trumpeter blew Last Post, followed by Reveille. The names of those who died during the last year were reverently read and added to the memorial scroll. Newmarket, Aurora, Markham, etc. were strongly represented, and members came from points as far apart as Niagara Falls, Brockville and Iroquois Falls far up in the North Country.

The guests were welcomed by the president, Andrew Cooper, who acted as chairman. One of the most arduous duties carried on through the year by the association is performed by the general secretary Jimmy Law, and no trouble is considered too great for him to perform. One interesting thing noticed, was several of the boys were in uniform for this present war.

It is not too early now to make reservations for the next anniversary.

SHARON

The regular meeting of Sharon Women's Institute will be held at Sharon Hall on Wednesday, May 6, at two o'clock p.m. There will be election of officers, also Red Cross sewing.

During the spring and summer months the Sunday school will be combined with the church service at St. James. The hour of service every Sunday, until further notice, will be at 2.30 p.m.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY HOLD SPRING RALLY

The spring rally of the northern section of Toronto Centre Presbyterian of the Woman's Missionary Society was held in Trinity United Church Wednesday, April 29. The morning session was opened by Miss Annie Bishop of Toronto. Greetings from the entertaining auxiliary were extended by the president, Mrs. W. R. Stephens.

Mrs. L. V. Stewart of Sutton led the worship service, speaking on "Prayer." A lovely solo was sung by Mrs. Rev. Shannon. Mrs. C. R. Carscallen, who spent twenty-one years in China, was the morning speaker.

"It is just fifty years in May since our missionaries went to China where we have had extraordinary opportunities. There have been three great miracles of late years. The Spanish Civil War, Dunkirk and China. President Roosevelt refers to the Chinese as the 'unconquerable Chinese.' Refugee migration of some 50,000,000 from coastal cities inland means great suffering. China has suffered more than human mind can understand.

The special character developed in the Chinese of late years is that of social responsibility. Special tribute was paid to the Toong family and their wonderful Christian influence, the best known of whom is Madame Chiang Kai Shek. Mrs. Carscallen spoke of China as being unknown to the world fifty years ago, now she is well known.

In the past travelling inland was very difficult. There was a Chinese saying, "the way to heaven is easier than the way to Sze Chuan." We owe much to the inventions of China. The first printed book in the world was made in China. We do not send missionaries to China to teach them culture and art, but to tell them of Christ."

Rev. Dr. A. E. Rummels cordially welcomed the gathering at the noon luncheon. Mrs. MacKillop spoke on the excellent missionary literature provided for our use. Mrs. Mae Porritt opened the afternoon session bringing greetings from the Presbyterian: "Everyone is thinking in terms of the future. The one thing uppermost in our minds is war. We have responsibilities and obligations to ourselves and our country, to ourselves and our church. We cannot let either down."

Mrs. Maxwell Loveys, sec. for Home Missions, spoke of the great work done in the W.M.S. hospitals of Northern Ontario and the western provinces. She also told of the fine work of young women missionaries in opening up new churches in very difficult districts. She spoke of the moving of some Japanese families from Victoria to the Assiniboia, Sask., school. The missionaries to be responsible for them.

Mrs. R. D. Brown sang a beautiful solo being the poem "The House by the Side of the Road" with a fine musical setting. The singing of the national anthem brought this interesting rally to a close.

PICKERING COLLEGE CELEBRATES 100TH ANNIVERSARY

town of Belleville in 1841. It was just called West Lake Boarding School and held the name for a quarter of a century.

"The school subsequently moved to Pickering, a predominantly Quaker district," the speaker said. "The school operated under the name of Pickering College, in its second location until 1905, when it was destroyed by fire. It was then moved to Newmarket and retained the name of Pickering College," he explained.

The school was operated under the headmastership of Dr. W. P. Firth, assisted by Mrs. Firth until the outbreak of the first Great War, when it was turned over to the Hospital Commission as a mental hospital for the duration.

"The fourth period of the school began when its buildings were restored to the College Board in 1927, and additions and renovations were made," the speaker said. "The school reopened under the present headmaster, Joseph McCulley, M.A., a graduate of Oxford," he said.

Clarence Pickett of Philadelphia, a Quaker, contended that hunger was a preliminary cause of the present war. He said the world had demonstrated ability to produce sufficient shelter and clothing for its needs, but had failed in the distribution of these preliminary wants.

Headmaster Joseph McCulley said that democracies demonstrate a belief in all persons and their capacities, and that it was to perpetuate the philosophy that so many graduates of Pickering College have answered the call of arms. He said nine of nearly 200 one-time students in the forces have lost their lives.

Aside from speech-making by one-time students and guests at the celebration, the school Glee Club, assisted by girls students of Newmarket High School presented excerpts from "The Gondoliers," and other selections. Vocal solos by Elizabeth Beer and Alan Sawyer, violin solo by Adolph Koldofsky, and a piano duet by Gordon Hallett and Clifford Poole were also included in the entertainment. Samuel Rogers, K.C., was chairman.

MOTHER

By Golden Glow

"Mother!" The best loved name in the world!

If there is any one word in the English language more loved than that one word, Mother, please someone tell me! I know you might say "what about home?" Well, the mother is the Queen of the Home, so the terms are synonymous; mother means home, and home means mother—that is if the home is a happy one, and the mother is living. We will take it for granted that it is so. We sincerely hope we are right!

I expect you think I am always quoting the Bible, but it is our National Book, and I think we all should know a great deal more than we do of its contents. Rev. T. W. Neal quoted from the scripture at the service held last Monday afternoon for Mrs. E. J. Davis, wife of the late Hon. E. J. Davis, in Trinity United Church, and he very appropriately said she was "a mother in Israel," and again and again her children rise up and call her blessed."

What higher tribute could anyone be given than that? And all who knew Mrs. Davis felt the truth of his words. When you realize that all the members of the family were there, except two, you realize that Mrs. Davis was truly a mother in every sense of the word! Mrs. Andrew Davis is spending the winter in Florida, and Miss Mabel Davis is now in London, England, doing war work with the Red Cross, the only two adult members of the family not present.

I have happy memories of Mrs. Davis that those two words Red Cross recall, happy even if in a troubled time like the present. It was in the last great war, and the Red Cross workers used to meet at the different parish halls. Mrs. Davis quite often kept a seat next to her for me, if she arrived first, and if I was first I did the same for her, for I was younger in those days and had good eyesight to thread needles, and had the delightful privilege of threading her needle as well as my own, and we became fast friends. She so often used to tell me of early days in King, and I well recall her telling me of the peacocks at their home. She found out my love for birds and flowers that long ago, and many a delightful chat we had while we knitted or sewed away at our Red Cross work.

My last visit to Mrs. Davis was at her late home where her devoted family had built for her a perfectly lovely room, three sides being of glass, and it is surrounded by the beautiful old trees of their garden, trees that have stood for untold years, really magnificent trees. I wish I could paint a picture of Mrs. Davis in her parlour, while in-doors, sun-parlour, her declining years were made so happy by all the care and devotion of her family! She was, of course, on the ground floor, and easy of access. They had built a wonderful feeding-table for the birds and squirrels among the trees near the windows, and did the tiny creatures enjoy it? Her bed was on a level with the window, so she could see all round her of course Mrs. Davis has been bedfast for some time.

Along the window-sill were more feeding tables, in addition to the glorified one with the big umbrella-like roof to protect them from the weather. What numbers of birds availed themselves of Mrs. Davis' hospitality, and also what a number of delightful mischievous squirrels and chipmunks frolicked around, stealing the birds' bread, fast and behaving like a bunch of badly behaved small boys. Mrs. Davis loved them all, and her wonderful flowers too. All her family have inherited her love of both, as at every Davis home you will see accommodation for the birds, such unique bird-houses, too, some of them, and the grandest flower size 42.

gardens in town. Flowers and mother, we always connect them! There is not a garden in town or near it to compare with the garden of the late Mrs. Aubrey Davis, and she was so generous in sharing both it and her flowers with her friends.

Mrs. Davis still keeps it lovely in her memory, and keeps her bird-houses and the feeding-tables supplied just as she did in her lifetime. Many a bouquet of flowers I recall with pleasure sent to me both in sickness and in health by Mrs. Davis, and I still have a bunch of those flowers that so many people call "straw" flowers because they have such an unpronounceable name. They dry in the fall and keep their brilliant color, if picked at the proper time, and make wonderful winter bouquets.

I was really speaking of Mr. Davis' mother when I thought of something else, and I wanted to say that Mrs. Webb told me her mother had as many as seven golden pheasants that came last winter to her "sanctuary" to be fed, and how she enjoyed them. I love to recall Mrs. Davis there in her sun-parlor, with the trees and flowers and birds just outside her window, and the members of her family also paying her daily visits inside!

I started really to write about Mother's Day, which as you know is a week from next Sunday, May 10, and here I've been recalling things connected with Mrs. Davis, but I shall add no more. She stands in our town for all the mothers! If we wish to be remembered by our families as Mrs. Davis is by hers let us aspire to the high standard set by her in her long, useful, happy life. We may not attain to the grand age of 93 years, but that also is something to strive for—is it not?

MOVIES PARADE

Canada's heroes of the air, flying heading to victory, are the heroes, too, of "Captains of the Clouds," the picture which will be the new screen fare at the Strand theatre, starting on Monday. James Cagney stars at the head of a cast which includes Brenda Marshall, Dennis Morgan, George Tobias, Alan Hale, Reginald Gardiner and Reginald Denny, as well as many actual members of the R.C.A.F. The story of "Captains of the Clouds" deals with a group of pilots who make a difficult and dangerous living picking up freight and passenger jobs in Canada's northern woods and lake country. Immersed in their own romantic, financial and personal problems, they pay little heed to the war until one day they hear Winston Churchill's "we shall never surrender" speech. With one accord they go to the nearest air field to enlist. They are somewhat chagrined to learn that they are considered too old to be fighting pilots, that the air force can use them only as teachers. Used to flying "by the seat of their pants," they find the rules and regulations trying, and Cagney, a rugged individualist, is finally put out of the service because his disregard of rules causes a near-casualty. At last, however, using the papers of one of his pals who has done his last power dive, he gets the chance he has dreamed of—to fly a bomber to England. On the way over, the unarmed squadron is attacked by a lethal Messerschmitt, and in one final and magnificent act of courage, he wings his way to glory. Most moviegoers may fail to recognize him, but Canada's world-famous "Billy" Bishop, V.C., who shot down 72 German planes in World War I plays himself in "Captains of the Clouds." He appears in his full dress uniform as air marshal of Canada and makes a fighting speech to a group of pilots. Author of the speech was none other than "Billy" Bishop himself.

There are more Indians in 1942 in the Western Hemisphere than in 1912. Fire dancers of the Pacific Northwest Indians carved masks with movable mouths capable of hair-raising grimaces.

AN APPEAL TO AMERICANS TO DO THEIR PART

An open letter to the President and members of the Congress of the United States of America:

There are many good citizens of this country who have watched with grave apprehension the trend of affairs since the rape of Austria and the grinding down of the brave Czechs under the heel of the Nazi boot a few years ago. Those who raised their voices urging preparedness were accused of hysteria. The isolationists in and out of Congress played just the roles Hitler said they would. Some were honest in their convictions but the result was the same. The only excuse anyone could have for pointing out the mistakes the country had suffered is the earnest hope that enough people will let their voices be heard before it is too late so that the same mistakes will not be made again. With this thought only in mind, one plain American citizen offers these points for consideration of those to whom this open letter is addressed or to whoever may care to read:

1. Tell the people of America the truth. The truth may hurt our ego but "give light and the people will find their way."
2. There is a Fifth Column in the United States just as there was in Norway, Hawaii and the Philippines—it was effective there—let us prevent its repetition here.
3. Reduce and combine the alphabetical agencies and eliminate non-defense government spending.
4. Put the forty-eight hour week into effect on all war work.
5. Clean out the dead wood in the Army and the Navy, no matter whose friends they be.
6. Put civilian defense in the hands of capable retired Army officers.
7. Further decentralize the many plants producing the things needed in our war effort.
8. Let us, as citizens of the United States, quit measuring everything in terms of the dollar.
9. Let's stop bragging.
10. Notify the Japanese and German Governments that we will hold ten of their nationals as hostages for the safety of every American citizen or American soldier now in their "protective custody."
11. Put the bridle on the heads of the Government agencies who constantly rush into print with loose and inaccurate statements about our shortages and our war needs.
12. In Germany Hitler has arrogated to himself the right to replace God in the spiritual life of the German people. Freedom of worship, a deep-rooted democratic institution, is gone. In Japan ancestor worship has always been a satisfactory substitute for the worship of God.
13. Let us in America not fail to give attention to spiritual values in our hour of crisis.
14. Let us have a rebirth of things religious and each strive to set our own house in order.
15. We are fighting a battle against the hordes who recognize no supreme being but a figure of their own creation.
16. When we have earnestly and sincerely done our full part, then and only then have we the right to pray to our God that He will give us the victory we desire.
17. Lewis D. Fox, in an advertisement in the Fort Worth (Texas) Star-Telegram.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

Well over half a million soldiers, sailors and airmen—622,450 to be exact—have been entertained at Ontario military camps by the Citizens Committee for Troops in Training since the war broke out. It has been announced by Capt. Norman Wilks, M.C., of the Citizens Committee.

During that time, entertainment by the Citizens Committee played at the Army Trainee Camp here to almost 15,000 troops. In all, a total of 12 Citizens Committee shows were presented at the Newmarket camp, one of the largest number of shows for any individual camp.

Given on a voluntary basis—most of the entertainers travel in organized groups to the military camps after their regular work—the shows included musical comedy, reviews, variety shows and male and mixed choruses. Capt. Wilks reported. Many of the actors and actresses work in munition plants during the day, he said.

Under sponsorship of the Citizens Committee, many motion picture stars, including Mary Pickford, Lawrence Tibbett, Joan Crawford and Kenny Baker, as well as famous orchestras, played before full houses of active service and trainee troops.

Formed in September, 1939, by a group of Toronto citizens, the Citizens Committee for Troops in Training is privately financed. It has never made a public appeal for funds despite the fact thousands of dollars have been spent on costumes, transportation and equipment for the hundreds of shows. Active in its entertainment work are Capt. Wilks, Miss Nella Jeffers, Ivor Lewis and Jack Arthur, all well-known in the theatrical business. Sgt. Hal Shaw is the committee's entertainment officer and J. R. Johnston its executive secretary.

"Entertainment provided by the Citizens Committee has always been enthusiastically received at the Newmarket Camp," Captain Wilks told The Express-Herald, "and we have scheduled further

LETTERS FROM BOYS OVERSEAS

No. 3-C.A.C. Reinforcement Unit
Canadian Army Overseas,
March 13, 1942.

Dear Mother:
I hope this letter finds you feeling better. I reached England a couple of days ago. We had an uneventful crossing. We didn't see a single enemy sub or airplane during the trip. To my surprise I was not seasick at all, although it was pretty rough. It was so rough they had to tie the piano to a pillar to keep it from sliding around when we had sing-songs. I hope Art is doing all right at his job. I hope you got the letter I wrote you before I left. I am going to write Aunt Clara and go up and visit her.

Paper is scarce here so we're supposed to use both sides of it. Garnet has some pictures I took when I was home. Will you please send them to me or have him send them to me.

I hope all the folks are well. The conditions over here aren't as bad as I thought they'd be, and yet haven't seen any damage done yet. Well, I'll close now, and write you again later.

Love,
Harold.

Scotland, Mar. 19, 1942

Dear Vets.:

I wish to thank you for the 300 Sweet Caps which I received today from the Lions Club through you.

The cigarette shortage is still acute so that makes a gift of this type all the more appreciated.

Right now things are pretty quiet in our area. Our unit at present is undergoing an intelligence test. The idea of this is to place every soldier in the position to which he is best suited. I guess this certainly makes it a lot different to the Great War days. However they are certainly going to have the forces in top notch shape when they decide to move.

I understand at present the whole Canadian Force Overseas is undergoing this test.

I must close now to get this in the mail, so once more thanking you,

I remain,
Albert Lindenbaum.

England, April 1, 1942.

Mr. Gilroy:

My thanks to all members of the Lions Club for this parcel received yesterday. There had been some delay as I have been in hospital for a while and am not at present with my unit, but expect to be back with them at any time now. Separate letter follows this.

Sincerely,
Spr. H. Moss.

Dear Lions:

I want to thank you very much for the 300 Sweet Caporals which I received from you today. I certainly appreciate them very much.

Yours thankfully,

To the members of Newmarket Lions Club:

I received your grand gift of 300 cigs to-day and they sure come in handy. Before I came to England I did not smoke, but after standing guard and working in this damp climate a smoke seems to relieve you and helps to chase away your blues.

All goes well on this side of the brink, so chins up and keep smiling. Thanks ever so much for your kindness and I hope in the very near future I may be able to thank you one and all personally. So, until then, I remain just one of the many homebreds.

Dear Friends:

Just these few lines to thank you for the parcel of cigarettes which I received quite safe, and I am very grateful to you one and all for thinking of me and the rest of the boys from town.

I will admit that it is hard to keep track of all the boys from town that are here in England, especially when they keep changing from one unit to another like I have since I have been over here. I am now in the heavy repair shop, just a new unit formed a couple of months ago, and I really like it here, so I guess I will stay put this time because it takes so long for me to even get a letter from my people back home when changing around every day or so, and from now on I will have this address unless they send us out to other parts of the army.

Well, many thanks again for the cigarettes, and I hope to see you all again soon. (I hope).

From Mickey.

CHILDREN OF ENGLAND ENJOYING WAR GAMES

The clatter of machine guns and the whirling of airplane propellers echo through the playrooms of the children of England as a result of the war, a report from Anna Freud, daughter of the late Sigmund Freud, and Dorothy Tiffany Burlingham, American psychologists, to the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children, New York City, reveals. The report covers 123 children from two to five years.

While adults work over their experiences in conscious thought and speech, children do the same in their play, the report pointed out. It went on:

"War games play a part in our nurseries, as they do in others. Houses which are built with blocks are not simply thrown over by the children as in former times; they are bombed from above, bricks being used as bombs."

"Playing trains has given way to playing airplanes, the noise of the trains is that of flying planes. Games like these will come more into the foreground after air attack and will give way to peace-time games when times are again normal."

Play at Bombing With "Gas Attack"

The report declared that during the heavy raids last year in England in March and May, children from three to five years repeatedly played out in games, what they had seen and heard.

For instance:

"The jungle gym in the garden was used by the children to provide a high point for the bombs. One child climbed to the highest bar and threw heavy objects on the children underneath. This was also the time when one of the children was overheard to mention gas. A girl, three years old, filled both her hands with sand from the sandbox, threw the sand in the children's faces and said: 'This is a gas attack.' This game was played without fear, but with a great deal of unrestrained excitement."

"Another game that is quite a favorite with the children is called 'air raid.' One of the children swoops around the room with his hands outstretched and tries to imitate the sound of an airplane motor. The other children try to keep out of his way. If he should touch a child with either one of his hands, that child is considered hit and must stay out of the game from that point on. The last child to remain untouched becomes the plane."

"Three to five-year-old children play 'air-raid shelter' instead of 'house' while 'hide-and-go-seek' starts with a shouted 'alert.' When all the children have hidden, the searcher calls out 'raid' and those returning safely home without being tagged are 'all clear.'" cigarettes are a thing that will never run amiss over here.

There is not very much news to give as I see in the Newmarket paper that is being sent to me, that most of the boys from home write to the Club, so I will leave the news from this side to them as I am a very poor hand at writing letters. Thanking you again, I remain,

Yours very sincerely,

Bill Dowling.

80% OF FARMERS WILL PLANT HYBRID CORN

With seeding well under way the farmers are now wondering what type, or strain of corn to order from their local seed dealer. According to one merchant who sells seed throughout York County, about 80% of the farmers will plant Hybrid corn this year. Since many will be planting this corn for the first time this year, the question of suitable strains is causing some concern.

In 1941 the County Crop Improvement Association conducted tests in various parts of the county and the average yield of green weight at harvesting was approximately three tons more per acre than the old standard varieties with over 3/4 of a ton more of ears. The seedsmen of the county were invited on a tour to inspect these plots and their impression was borne out by the yields. The Wisconsin 606 being five days earlier did not yield quite as heavily as the 625 or 645 which were about equal. All these produced in Ontario will now be known as Ontario 606, 625, 645 etc. Of all the plots the 625 seemed to have a slight edge on the 645.

In a report of these tests prepared by the Department of Agriculture at Newmarket for distribution to the farmers the many advantages of Hybrid corn are pointed out. There are also some interesting figures on the use of commercial fertilizer and different rates of seeding.

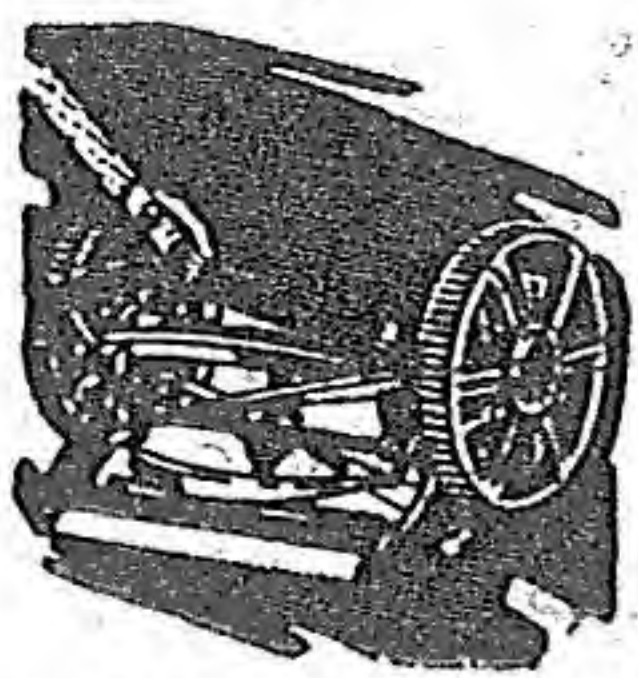

While Corn Borer resistance is one of the advantages, several farmers lost out on this last year by planting too thick. According to W. M. Cockburn, Agricultural Representative, this corn definitely should not be planted heavier than seven to eight lbs. per acre to get best yields, best ensilage and greatest resistance to borer and wind. If planted heavier it should be thinned to three plants per hill or three to the yard. Some roasts an equal quantity of cheap feed corn to kill the germination and mix it with the seed to plant with the seed drill at 15 lbs. per acre.

We understand the local agricultural office in co-operation with the Crop Improvement Association is carrying on quite a number of corn tests again this year, and are trying out some of the early strains which will produce ripe grain for feed.

NEWS FROM KING CITY AND DISTRICT

Canadian Red Cross Society King Township Branch News

A meeting of the executive of the local branch was held in Schomberg on Monday evening, April 30. Plans were made for the appointment of canvassers and other necessary work so that the township would be completely covered in the national campaign for funds which commences on May 11. Ontario division has advised that the quota set for King township branch is $2,000. This letter of advice reads in part:

"The higher objective of the national office and your branch is necessitated by the steadily increasing need for Prisoner-of-war parcels. At the time of the last appeal preparations were under way to pack 5,000 parcels weekly, and today, with the lack of food in Britain, the society is packing 40,000 parcels weekly. While the society is only asked to pay for 23,000, the cost of these parcels is approximately $3,150,000 during this year, plus a budget of $400,000, which has been set up to supply Canadian prisoners in Hong Kong and the Far East as soon as it is possible to ship food to them. It is expected that total shipments of Prisoner-of-war parcels will have to greatly measure over these figures as time goes on."

The above refers to only one of the many demands on the funds of the Red Cross. For this one reason alone we must do our part in providing the money necessary if the Red Cross is to carry on its great work. While the branch quota is considerable, still the feeling is that when the people of the township realize the need the objective will be reached. The far-reaching fruits of the effort will include your gift to the campaign funds.

King Township stacked up yes votes in the plebiscite on April 27, with 1390 affirmative and 235 negative votes. The riding of North York made one of the outstanding totals in the Dominion of Canada.

A meeting held at Schomberg on April 4, in the interests of the plebiscite, was well attended. Dr. M. K. Dillane was chairman. Speakers were Hon. W. P. Mulock, Major Alex. McKenzie, Jas. Butler, secretary for North York Veterans; Morgan Baker, M.P.P.; J. A. Green, reeve of Richmond Hill; J. W. Bray of North York. Closing remarks were made by Rev. F. V. Abbott of Schomberg.

L.A.C. Bill Walker of King was tendered a farewell party at "The Embassy," Toronto, early during last week prior to his leaving for New Brunswick on Wednesday, April 22.

Pte. Warren McBride, Fort Garry House, England, writes the family here of pleasant visit to Scotland recently among friends who show the greatest kindness. Warren says the civilians in Scotland think the Canadian soldier is "O.K." "When one is riding on a bus or train, the Scotsman puts his hand in his pocket and draws out money for the Canadian boy's fare. I had money in my pocket, but my host refused to let me use it. Every man in Scotland appears to be host to Canadian boys."

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Wellesley and family visited at Mr. Arthur Wellesley's on Sunday.

The removal by death from our village, of John Dennison, 90 years of age, who died recently at Toronto, makes another break in the list of older residents. Mr. Dennison lived his life in York County, the greater part of that in Vaughan and King Townships. From Eversley he moved to King and after his wife's death resided with his son, Herman. A builder by trade, he kept up a lively interest in local affairs until his advancing years closed rapidly in upon him. He was of kindly nature and excellent company for a dreary day. His sense of humor and friendly nature made him many friends. We recall him at his best in this capacity when he and Malcolm Mitchell were inseparable and always at the most friendly variance with each other. Two sons, Herman and William, and a daughter, Mrs. F. Dennison, survive. He was interred in King cemetery.

We are glad to report the recovery of Herman Dennison, who was too ill to attend his father's funeral.

The funeral of William Northcott, aged 71, of Nobleton, was held on Monday, April 26. Interment in Schomberg Friends' Cemetery. His wife and two children survive. Mrs. Clarence Jessop of Lisle, and Bill Northcott of the Lincoln-Welland Regiment of Newfoundland. Fortunately the son was home on leave at the time of the father's passing, and was able to remain for his funeral. Mr. Northcott was a veteran of the last war and in poor health as a result.

S.S. 17, Deacon School, has an interesting class of vocalists and tap dancers trained by their teacher, Mrs. Fred Hunter. Dressed in patriotic colours, featuring a "V" for victory design, they gave a creditable floor show before the audience attending the plebiscite meeting at Schomberg last Friday evening.

On Sunday last Rev. R. E. Morley of St. Paul's Rummymede Anglican church preached in the King circuit. Following the morning service at St. John's, Oak Ridges, several remained for lunch in the Parish Hall and heard the broadcasts in Youth Crusade week. Rev. Mr. Worrall announces the schedule of services for the coming months for each Sunday, as follows: At All Saints', King, 9.30 a.m., Organ recital by Dorothy Armstrong; 10 a.m., service; 2 p.m., Sunday School. St. John's, Oak Ridges, 10.30 a.m., Sunday School; 11.15 a.m., service.

On Saturday, May 23, a sale of home baking will be held at All Saints' Anglican Church during the afternoon.

King United Church announces the 71st anniversary of the founding of the church to be celebrated on Sunday, May 3. Service at 11 a.m., with Rev. C. B. Brethren of Richmond Hill, assisted by Maple United Church choir. At 7.30 p.m., Rev. A. Carman of Earlscourt United Church, Toronto, and Maple quartette.

On Monday, May 4, a supper in the church basement, followed by a brilliant entertainment of variety numbers, vocalists of the Illyd Harris studio, Aurora. Mr. Harris will direct and present a program of unusual interest, including a reader. We shall find these talented artists a real treat indeed.

Messrs. Wm. Ross and Hugh, Ernest Hollingshead, Norman MacMurchy, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Roling and Miss Alice Ferguson were among those in the locality to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. E. J. Davis of Newmarket on Monday last.

The passing of Mrs. E. J. Davis of Newmarket, wife of the late Hon. E. J. Davis, marks the last of the Johnston family, natives of Kinghorn, the brother, James L. Johnston of Ottawa having passed away only recently. Mrs. Davis was born 93 years ago, the daughter of the late David Johnston, on the fifth concession, near Kinghorn. Her early education was received at S.S. 23, King, where later she taught for a time. In 1874 Margaret Johnston married E. J. Davis, already a capable partner in his father's business, the Lowell Tannery of A. Davis and Son. They lived in the house now owned by Ernest Hollingshead. Five sons and two daughters were born and raised here, until 1903, when the tannery was burned. Hon. E. J. and Mrs. Davis moved to Newmarket where the remainder of her life was spent. And so it would seem her passing creates another broken link in the family circle of Kinghorn folk. Local friends will remember her gracious kindness and extend sympathy to the Davis family.

May 31 is the date of Laskay United church anniversary.

"Has your baby learned to talk yet?" "He has. We're teaching him to keep quiet now."

KESWICK

The Christian Church are starting Sunday, May 3rd, to hold the church services on Daylight Saving Time.

Mr. Winston Prosser, who has been working at Malton airport in Toronto for the winter is at home for a time to look after his work here.

Mr. Walter Richmond's of Jersey have moved to the bungalow property of Dr. Pim which, we understand, they have purchased.

Mr. Frank Perry, with Mr. Johnston Perry and lady friend were guests at the Perry home at the lake on Sunday.

Miss Jean Peters has returned home from Toronto where she had a position all winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Grant left this week for their summer hotel at Big Bay Point. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Styles and family of Mount Pleasant, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Rigler were guests at the Grant's home on Sunday.

The death occurred on Tuesday last, April 21, of another of North Gwillimbury's well known residents, Mrs. Fred VanNorman, formerly Cecilia Agnew of Lloyd town. Mrs. VanNorman has made her home here even before her marriage, and made many friends with her bright, cheerful disposition and her willingness to help in church and community activities. She was associated for many years with the Christian Church, later joining the United. Surviving her are one son Ewart, with whom she made her home, and a daughter Madeline, Mrs. Norman King of Belhaven. The funeral service was private from the family home on Thursday, April 23, with interment in Queensville. We extend sympathy to the family in their loss.

The Christian Church friends of Mrs. Stuart Wright of Ravenshoe (formerly Mrs. Cecil Taylor) of Keswick who was married recently met at the Wright home on Tuesday evening and presented the bride with a beautiful gift from her church friends. Afterward all present enjoyed a happy social time. We join in wishing the happy couple a bright, prosperous future together.

Miss Margaret Peel of Toronto was at home for the weekend.

Mrs. Harvey of Toronto is now occupying her Keswick Beach Cottage for the summer.

Our early spring is meaning early garden planting and if the mild weather continues a great many will be enjoying early harvests of garden produce.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Rye and two daughters are moving next week to the house recently occupied by Mrs. Cecil Taylor on Church St.

A great many Keswick Beach cottagers were up on Sunday. Among those noted was Miss Oille Soverby of Toronto.

Mrs. Richard Pollock of Newmarket visited at Mrs. J. Harper's over the weekend.

The spring thank-offering meeting of the W.M.S. of Keswick United Church, held on Thursday, April 16, was one of interest, many being present. Under the leadership of Mrs. C. Vaughan and Mrs. R. Stork, the worship service was one of great inspiration. Mrs. G. Lapp presented in review, very clearly, a chapter of the study book, which appealed to all, and was listened to with great interest. Others assisting were Miss Gilroy and Mrs. F. Marritt. Following the worship service the president, Mrs. W. E. Morton, presided over the regular business period, during which several items of importance to the country at this time were very thoroughly discussed. It is announced that the next meeting on Thursday, May 14, will commence at 2.30. During house-cleaning time, if any have used clothing suitable for the annual spring sale, they may either bring it to that meeting or communicate with Mrs. Morton, the president, or Mrs. J. E. Baines, convener of supply committee, about the same.

The Y.M.C.A. Chapel at the army training centre, Red Deer, Alta., was the scene of a very pretty wedding on April 5, when Olive Francis Christina Duncan, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. William Duncan of Red Deer, became the bride of Donald Bruce MacInnis, R.C.A.S.C., younger son of the late Wm. E. MacInnis and Mrs. S. J. Pegg of Keswick, Ont. Capt. Both officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore a street-length dress of medium blue crepe, with navy hat and accessories, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which the happy couple left by train for a short honeymoon in Edmonton. On their return they will reside in Red Deer.

UNION STREET

The May meeting of the Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. D. Beckett on Thursday, May 7th, at 2 P.M.

This is the first birthday of this organization and a birthday cake is being made for this occasion.

The roll call will be an exchange of perennials or plant slips. Topic: "Agriculture." The programme committee is Mrs. S. Graves, Mrs. G. Colo and Mrs. E. Burgess. The refreshment committee is Mrs. Pat Murphy and Miss Violet Micks.

The meetings are to be held the first Thursday of each month and all ladies are invited to attend.

Miss Sadie McQueen will be the guest speaker at the Willing Workers' meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Toole, May 6. Mrs. Earl Toole, assistant hostess. We have heard Miss McQueen on previous occasions and know just how much enjoyment is in store for us. Responsive reading will be led by Mrs. C. Toole. Prayer, Mrs. E. Toole. The roll call will be a Bible mother. It would add to the interest if each one would add a word or two regarding the mother they mention.

Mrs. John Rowland of Newmarket is visiting Mrs. M. F. Starr.

Mrs. Alvin Ridley spent Wednesday in Toronto.

On the evening of the 30th, at Bogartown school, the film showing how the B.W.V.F. is being used, will be shown. The fund has done so much to alleviate suffering that it deserves support.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ridley, Miss Helen Reid, Miss Irene Harper and Mr. Roy Harper attended the Plunket dinner at Mount Albert on Wednesday evening. Those of the party who compose the Harper orchestra regaled the diners with music. They report an excellent dinner and very interesting films, showing the process of making Canada Bread, also pork processing. Two hundred and fifty persons attended. The proceeds, apart from expenses were for the carrying on of war work.

Pte. Raymond Needler of Chatham was the recipient Friday of a pen and pencil set, presented to him at his home by members of the committee of the community club.

Mr. and Mrs. Colville and Mrs. Robert Storey were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hicks of Toronto on Sunday. Mrs. Hicks is a niece of Mrs. Storey's, and her birthday falls on the same date.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ridley spent Sunday at Whiteby guests of their son, Mr. Walter Ridley and Mrs. Ridley.

A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday at Pastor Rowan's parsonage near Ringwood, when Miss Doris Willson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willson of Holt, became the bride of Pte. Raymond Needler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Needler of Pleasantville. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. G. Brown of the Christian Church.

The bride wore a very pretty gown of rose sheer with blue accessories. The bridesmaid, Miss Dorothy Willson, sister of the bride, wore blue sheer with rose accessories. Mr. Lawrence Needler, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The groom's gifts to the attendants were beautifully engraved signet rings. Pte. and Mrs. Needler returned to the bride's home for the wedding supper, then spent Sunday with the groom's parents, leaving for Chatham on Sunday evening. This column extends warm good wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Forbes of Toronto spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Toole. Miss Evelyn Evans of Toronto visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Evans, over the weekend.

Miss Florence Tucker of Newmarket spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. A. Tucker.

The committee in our community which looks after the packing of boxes for the boys overseas, wishes to thank those who have so generously contributed to the contents of the boxes; also to the paying of the sending charge. It is hoped this interest will continue, for the boys' letters show how thoroughly the packages are appreciated and enjoyed.

Mrs. Gordon McClure, Miss S. McQueen and Master Murray McClure took tea on Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. E. Madill, Petch's Corners.

The teachers of Whitechurch township schools met on Friday afternoon at Hartman schoolhouse.

The play-concert directed by Mrs. A. N. Belugin and given recently in Newmarket, will be given on Friday, May 8th, at Bogartown schoolhouse to help with the boxes for overseas boys.

Master Dawson Petch of Chatham, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John McClure.

Things

"Kindness"

Kindness is a golden rule that one learns in many a school; it's a rule that works two ways, sending out its sunlike rays, giving to receiver, giver, joy that flows just like a river. Let me cite a special case, that was full of charming grace, namely, when my mother found all the friends she had around. Ninety years last Monday found her, and there came from all around her, token of a thought and care than all surely something rare.

Cards came in a pretty shower, till the house was like a bower; fruit and candy, eggs and cream, made the table quite a dream. Little maple sugar shells, tasted just the way spring smells. Hyacinths and daffodils shook their pink and yellow frills, beaming round as if to say, "greetings on your special day."

So this column's just to show, what we'd like you all to know, that a little thoughtfulness can a person greatly bless—make some special day a joy—pleasure without an alloy, and my mother wants to say "that's how friends made my birthday."

Even the usual inside indications aren't much help to young soldiers these days when it comes to speculations as to where they'll be sent on active service.

A local father wrote his son at military camp, asking where he expected to see duty.

Came the reply:

"It's anybody's guess. So far, we've been inoculated for yellow fever and given fur hats."

YOUR SCRAP RUBBER

is now a vital war material

Enemy action in the Far East has caused such an acute shortage of rubber that our whole war effort is in serious danger. Canada and her Allies must have rubber, quickly, for the armed forces, for factories, for ships. The Japanese control our source of crude rubber imports—the only other quickly available supply is old scrap rubber, which can be reclaimed. Every citizen in Canada must do his part in collecting all the scrap rubber in the country and turning it over to the Government for war purposes. Here is how to do it.

THIS IS AN URGENT APPEAL FOR YOUR HELP

Question: Is the rubber situation really serious?

Answer: The shortage of rubber is so grave that any citizen hoarding rubber or using it unnecessarily is committing an act of disloyalty. It is now illegal to destroy any rubber article.

Question: Of what use is reclaimed rubber?

Answer: Old rubber is processed so that the rubber content is reclaimed. This reclaimed rubber is used in the manufacture of essential articles for our war effort, thus replacing crude rubber.

Question: How much scrap rubber is needed?

Answer: Fifty Million Pounds. This is a large quantity, but it MUST be found. Every old piece of rubber in Canada, no matter how small, is needed, QUICKLY.

Question: Should I turn in any usable rubber articles as well as worn out ones?

Answer: Absolutely not! By no means discard anything that is still useful and that might have to be replaced. On the other hand, rubber tires used as boat bumpers, swings, etc., should be turned in for war uses.

HOW DO I TURN IN MY SCRAP RUBBER?

The school boys and girls of Canada are being organized, through the school authorities, to act as Official Collectors of Scrap Rubber. The school nearest you is, therefore, your best Collection Depot. You may dispose of your scrap rubber in any one of the following four ways:

When you gather up your scrap rubber and dispose of it by one of these methods, it will be used by the Government for Canada's War Effort. Do it NOW!

1. Give it to the children for their school collection.
2. Give it to your local National Salvage Committee.
3. Leave it with any Service Station or Tire Dealer where you see the sign: "Voluntary Scrap Rubber Receiving Depot."
4. Sell it to a junk collector.

Question: What kind of scrap rubber is needed?
Answer: Every all-rubber or part-rubber article must be salvaged. Here are a few of the articles you must turn in:
Old Tires of every kind
Old Inner Tubes
Rubber Boots, Hats, Coats, Aprons, Pants, Gloves, Tubing, Matting, Toys
Sport Shoes (crepe soles are especially good)
Garden Hose Hot Water Bottles Stair Treads
Bathing Caps and many other articles
Question: What happens to the scrap rubber collected?
Answer: The scrap is sorted, baled and assembled into carload lots and is then purchased by the Government at fixed prices throughout Canada. The Government pays forwarding transportation charges on these carload lots, and is responsible for their allocation. You may be sure that every pound will be used directly or indirectly in the war effort.
Question: How do I go about saving scrap rubber?
Answer: Start hunting for it TODAY. Clean out your cellars, attics, garages and sheds right away. You will find more rubber articles than you expect. Start them all on their way to the battlefield.

REGISTER MANY BIRTHS WITH BABE NOT NAMED

Prospective parents have many important things to think about. It is true, but there are many things more momentous than the name they propose to bestow on their eventual offspring? asks the New York Sun. It continues:

"Certainly there are not; yet the Health Department tells us that 30,000 birth certificates were filed last year with the space intended for the name of the child left blank. That seems to indicate that in nearly 30 per cent. of cases the parents, at the time the child was born, were still undecided what to call him or her. It would seem to be a simple matter to be ready with two names, one of each sex; that would not cover the contingency of twin boys or twin girls and still less of quintuplets, but it would be an adequate precaution in the great majority of cases. A good many parents do not even trouble to forward the name after they have decided on it."

Puffing and blowing, the young man just managed to jump into a carriage as the train left the sta-

The middle-aged man in the corner eyed him with scorn.

"When I was your age, my lad," he said, "I could run half a mile, catch a train by the skin of my teeth, and yet be as fresh as a daisy."

"Yes," gasped the young fellow,
"but I missed this one at the last

WAR does a PINGERS MOVEMENT on Telephones

ON the one hand, demand for new telephone installations—especially in residences—has been greater than ever before. On the other, the materials which go into telephone equipment and the equipment itself have both been largely diverted to military and emergency use. Result: a serious shortage of facilities to take care of civilian requirements—of wire, cable, switchboards, instruments. The War-time Prices and Trade Board has charged us with the responsibility of rigidly restricting telephone installations. We have no alternative. From now on, new installations can be made only where they can be justified in the light of the war emergency and to the extent that facilities are available.

In appealing for your cooperation, we urge that you ask for a telephone only where such recognized essential service is involved. And to all telephone users, we again stress the need for consistent practice of "War-time Telephone Tactics"— your contribution to keeping telephone lines clear for urgent war business.

WARTIME TELEPHONE TACTICS

- BE SURE you have the right number, consult the directory.
- SPEAK DISTINCTLY, directly into the mouthpiece.
- ANSWER PROMPTLY when the bell rings.
- BE BRIEF. Clear your line for the next call.
- USE OFF-PEAK hours for Long Distance calls: before 9:30 a.m., 12 p.m., 5-7 p.m., after 9 p.m.

These things may look trifling, but on 6,500,000 daily telephone calls, they are very important.

"THE HOARDER"

PUBLIC ENEMY
NO. 1

People who buy more of anything than they currently need, and merchants who encourage them to do so, are sabotaging the war effort and are therefore public enemies.

Loyal citizens do not hoard.
They buy only for their immediate needs. They cheerfully adjust their standard of living, realizing that their country's needs must come first. They do not try to gain unfair advantages over their neighbours.

Are you a hoarder or a loyal citizen? Are you hampering Canada's war effort by unnecessary buying? Or are you co-operating to the best of your ability to save Canada from such horrors as Hong Kong?

If Canadians do their duty,
there will be no more hoarding.
Everyone will get a fair share of the goods available. More food can be sent to Great Britain.
More raw materials—more manpower—will be available for making guns, tanks, planes and other armaments to back up our armed forces.

In cases where it is advisable for you to buy in advance of your immediate requirements—such as your next season's coal supply—you will be encouraged to do so by direct statement from responsible officials.

What an amazing lot of subjects come up during an afternoon when we meet together to knit or to sew these days! We talk about everything under the sun but the subject nearest our hearts—I mean the war! It is queer how, if the subject veers that way, except of course overseas mail, which we all love to share with those who have received any, you will invariably find a deep silence prevails for a time till someone who recovers their wits first starts something entirely different. I mean, if one gets talking of the horrors of war and the heart-rending account of some tragic events—for in spite of everything the subject will come up. It is as if we are all trying to keep from worrying our next-door-neighbour with tales of horror, but the subject is always close to the surface and one must be very, very careful or the talk will get out of hand, and an afternoon of good work be turned into something quite the reverse.

And don't let anyone fool you that because the war isn't discussed in all its aspects at these meetings, that nobody knows anything about world events, you may get a big surprise, and find out that you yourself are the least informed on the subject of all those present!

Maybe somebody has tried a new recipe—and what is more intriguing to the feminine mind than a new recipe unless it is a new beauty hint or a new hair-do. Quite likely all of a sudden somebody makes a comment on men's new styles in coats and trousers: no more flaps on the pockets, no more buttons on the sleeves, no breast pocket or vest pocket where they used to carry their watch, no more cuffs on their trousers.

Then you'll hear someone say, "And a good thing too, they were nothing else than dust catchers." Then most likely someone else will comment on how neatly we could fix the ragged heel end of a pair of trousers by cutting off the cuff, trimming off the frayed part and replacing the cuff again!

Then somebody still working away at the garment under construction will say "How about two inches off the bottom of men's shirts and pyjama coats?" And like a flash an answer will come "I bet that is why the young chaps wear their shirts on the outside now!" And again a voice, "But they started to wear them on the outside last summer," and reply, "Well, I bet it is to show that they are allies of China now, and they wear their shirts on the outside same as the Chinese coolies do!"

That seems to exhaust the subject. Presently someone suggests that we do something about all the broken glass lying around the streets and roads, but nobody knows what exactly can be done till a laughing voice says, "Put the offenders through the spanking machine!" Then quick as a flash, "Who'll find the offenders?" and "who'll do the spanking?" They all agree that it is children who are the worst offenders, but think each household might see to it that broken glass is gathered up from in front of their home. Whoever heard of most householders who care a brass farthing about such things? They, the worst offenders, never sweep their sidewalk or shovel the snow in winter!

We can all name several—we have them in every part of the town.

Then, of course, there are the misguided creatures who think it smart to break electric light bulbs, and who like to go along the railroad track taking pot shots at the glass insulators on the telegraph poles. What care can we find for such offenders? None! I quite agree!

Then maybe the subject turns to conventions, and various are the little personal incidents recalled—and we wonder will we be able to attend as in former years? Then we all begin to wonder about the usual summer outings—vacations and picnics. Transportation looms up big and imposing for joy-riding has been severely criticized, apart from the subject of gas and tires.

A voice says, "well, we can go back to the old style of picnic and walk to the woods nearby and carry our baskets." A howl goes up! "What, just go to a woods and not have any accommodation for making tea, not have a table and chairs, not have ice cream, not have cold drinks?" Then, "you don't mean sit on the grass! Why there would be snakes and all kinds of bugs!" "Oh, my dear, I couldn't possibly walk anywhere!" "Oh, I couldn't sit on the ground!" "Well, somebody will say, 'carry your camp stool!' And another will add, 'We could make tea on a gasoline camp cooker.' Presently the subject ends in a laugh!

Then somebody has seen a new bird, and that subject keeps us going for quite a while, and we discuss gardens as well, and the neighbor's dogs and hens come in for a "lambasting," but nobody knows any remedy. It ends again in a laugh!

We discuss changes on Main St., and are saddened by so many tragic deaths. And again the subject of so many going overseas or to camps in Canada comes up. Again we are getting close to the danger line—the subject we all try so hard to avoid.

Somebody says, "They bombed the town and hospital the other night where my husband was in the last war." And all look up, and a queer, uncanny silence comes over the room. We look at each other and presently someone says: "What if he had been there?" Quickly we realize where we are heading and someone steps into the breach and we are off on another subject. We like to speak of the splendid girls in the C.W.A.C., we older women who were their age in the last war, or young or even.

Life is made up of little things like this. We are all like actors on a stage, talking to hide our inner thoughts!

would be standing on the Volga. "Hitler made a gross under-estimate of Russian power. Surprises began and continued. As Germany smashed thousands of tanks and planes, thousands of other tanks and planes appeared. The Russians seemed to know how to fight the Germans better than other countries. There was good staff work in spite of the purges that had taken place in the army.

"There was a lack of fifth columnists among the Russians. The Russians were unified. The scorched earth policy was another surprise.

"It seemed that Russia couldn't endure. But Russia showed not only endurance but striking power. Russian morale has been astonishing. It's made up of love of the soil. I have met only one white Russian in this country who would not fight for Russia, no matter how they hate the Soviet.

"But also if the Russian government hadn't given them something more than they had in 1917 the Russians wouldn't have been so ready to fight. They are satisfied with what the Soviet has tried to do.

"But Russia also has mechanical force—what China lacks—but not from us. British and American equipment have been pouring into Russia but not nearly in quantities Russia has been using. Russia's mechanical progress has been amazing.

"The Russians have thrown back the Germans as other countries have not done, except Britain on the sea.

"Gentlemen, I think Russia is setting the pace for victory."

VANDORF

Sunday, May 3 the Rev. E. A. Owens of Unionville will conduct the morning service, 11 o'clock, in Wesley Church. Sunday school meets at 10 a.m. with classes for all ages, and a cordial invitation is extended to all to attend both these services.

The Women's Association will meet at the home of Mrs. Wm. Kingdon, Wednesday, May 6. The devotional will be taken by Mrs. Allen, "Safety," Psal. 91. The topic "How Do You Meet Life?" by Mrs. Jas. Oliver. Reading, Mrs. Loy Carr. Roll call, Your favorite memory gem.

The Y.P.U. enjoyed a splendid service last Tuesday evening under the leadership of Mr. Ralph Whately, culture convenor. A slip of paper containing the name of an important character of the bible, was given to each one present, and each person gave a three-minute talk on the character and important events in the life of the person mentioned on their slip. It was all very interesting and helpful, and we hope this will be used again some time.

Mrs. R. Scott was called home from a committee meeting last Thursday evening when 32 neighbours and relatives gathered at her home in honor of Mrs. Scott's birthday, some from Newmarket, Aurora and Bethesda, also Mr. and Mrs. D. Morton of Oakville. We all extend to Mrs. Scott our best wishes for many happy returns.

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. White last Friday when they entertained about 40 friends in honor of their daughter, Jean's, twenty-first birthday. The evening was spent in games and contests after which a dainty lunch was served. Jean received many lovely and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilkinson and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilkinson and children of Keswick spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. Scott.

Miss Grace McDonald of Toronto is home for a three weeks' holiday. Miss Ethel McDonald spent the weekend in Toronto.

Miss Francis Webster of Kettleby visited Miss Alda Carr over the weekend.

Pte. Ivan Pattenden, Minnie of Toronto and Mabel of Aurora spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Pattenden.

Mr. Alfred Pattenden and Garnet are home for a week, and Miss Elva Pattenden of Long Branch was home for the weekend.

Miss Doris Phillips of Toronto spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. C. Bostwick.

Mrs. H. Switzer is leaving on Thursday of this week to visit Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Switzer at Long Lac, Ont.

CUT NEW WOOL IN CIVIL USES FOR 6 MONTHS

Restrictions on the use of new wool for civilian purposes, effective for the six months starting April 1, reduce the quantities of raw material available to the mills for non-government uses by 30 to 50 per cent, below 1941 levels. This means that the wool industries to supply civilian needs will use 40 per cent. of this whole capacity, against 70 per cent. one year ago.

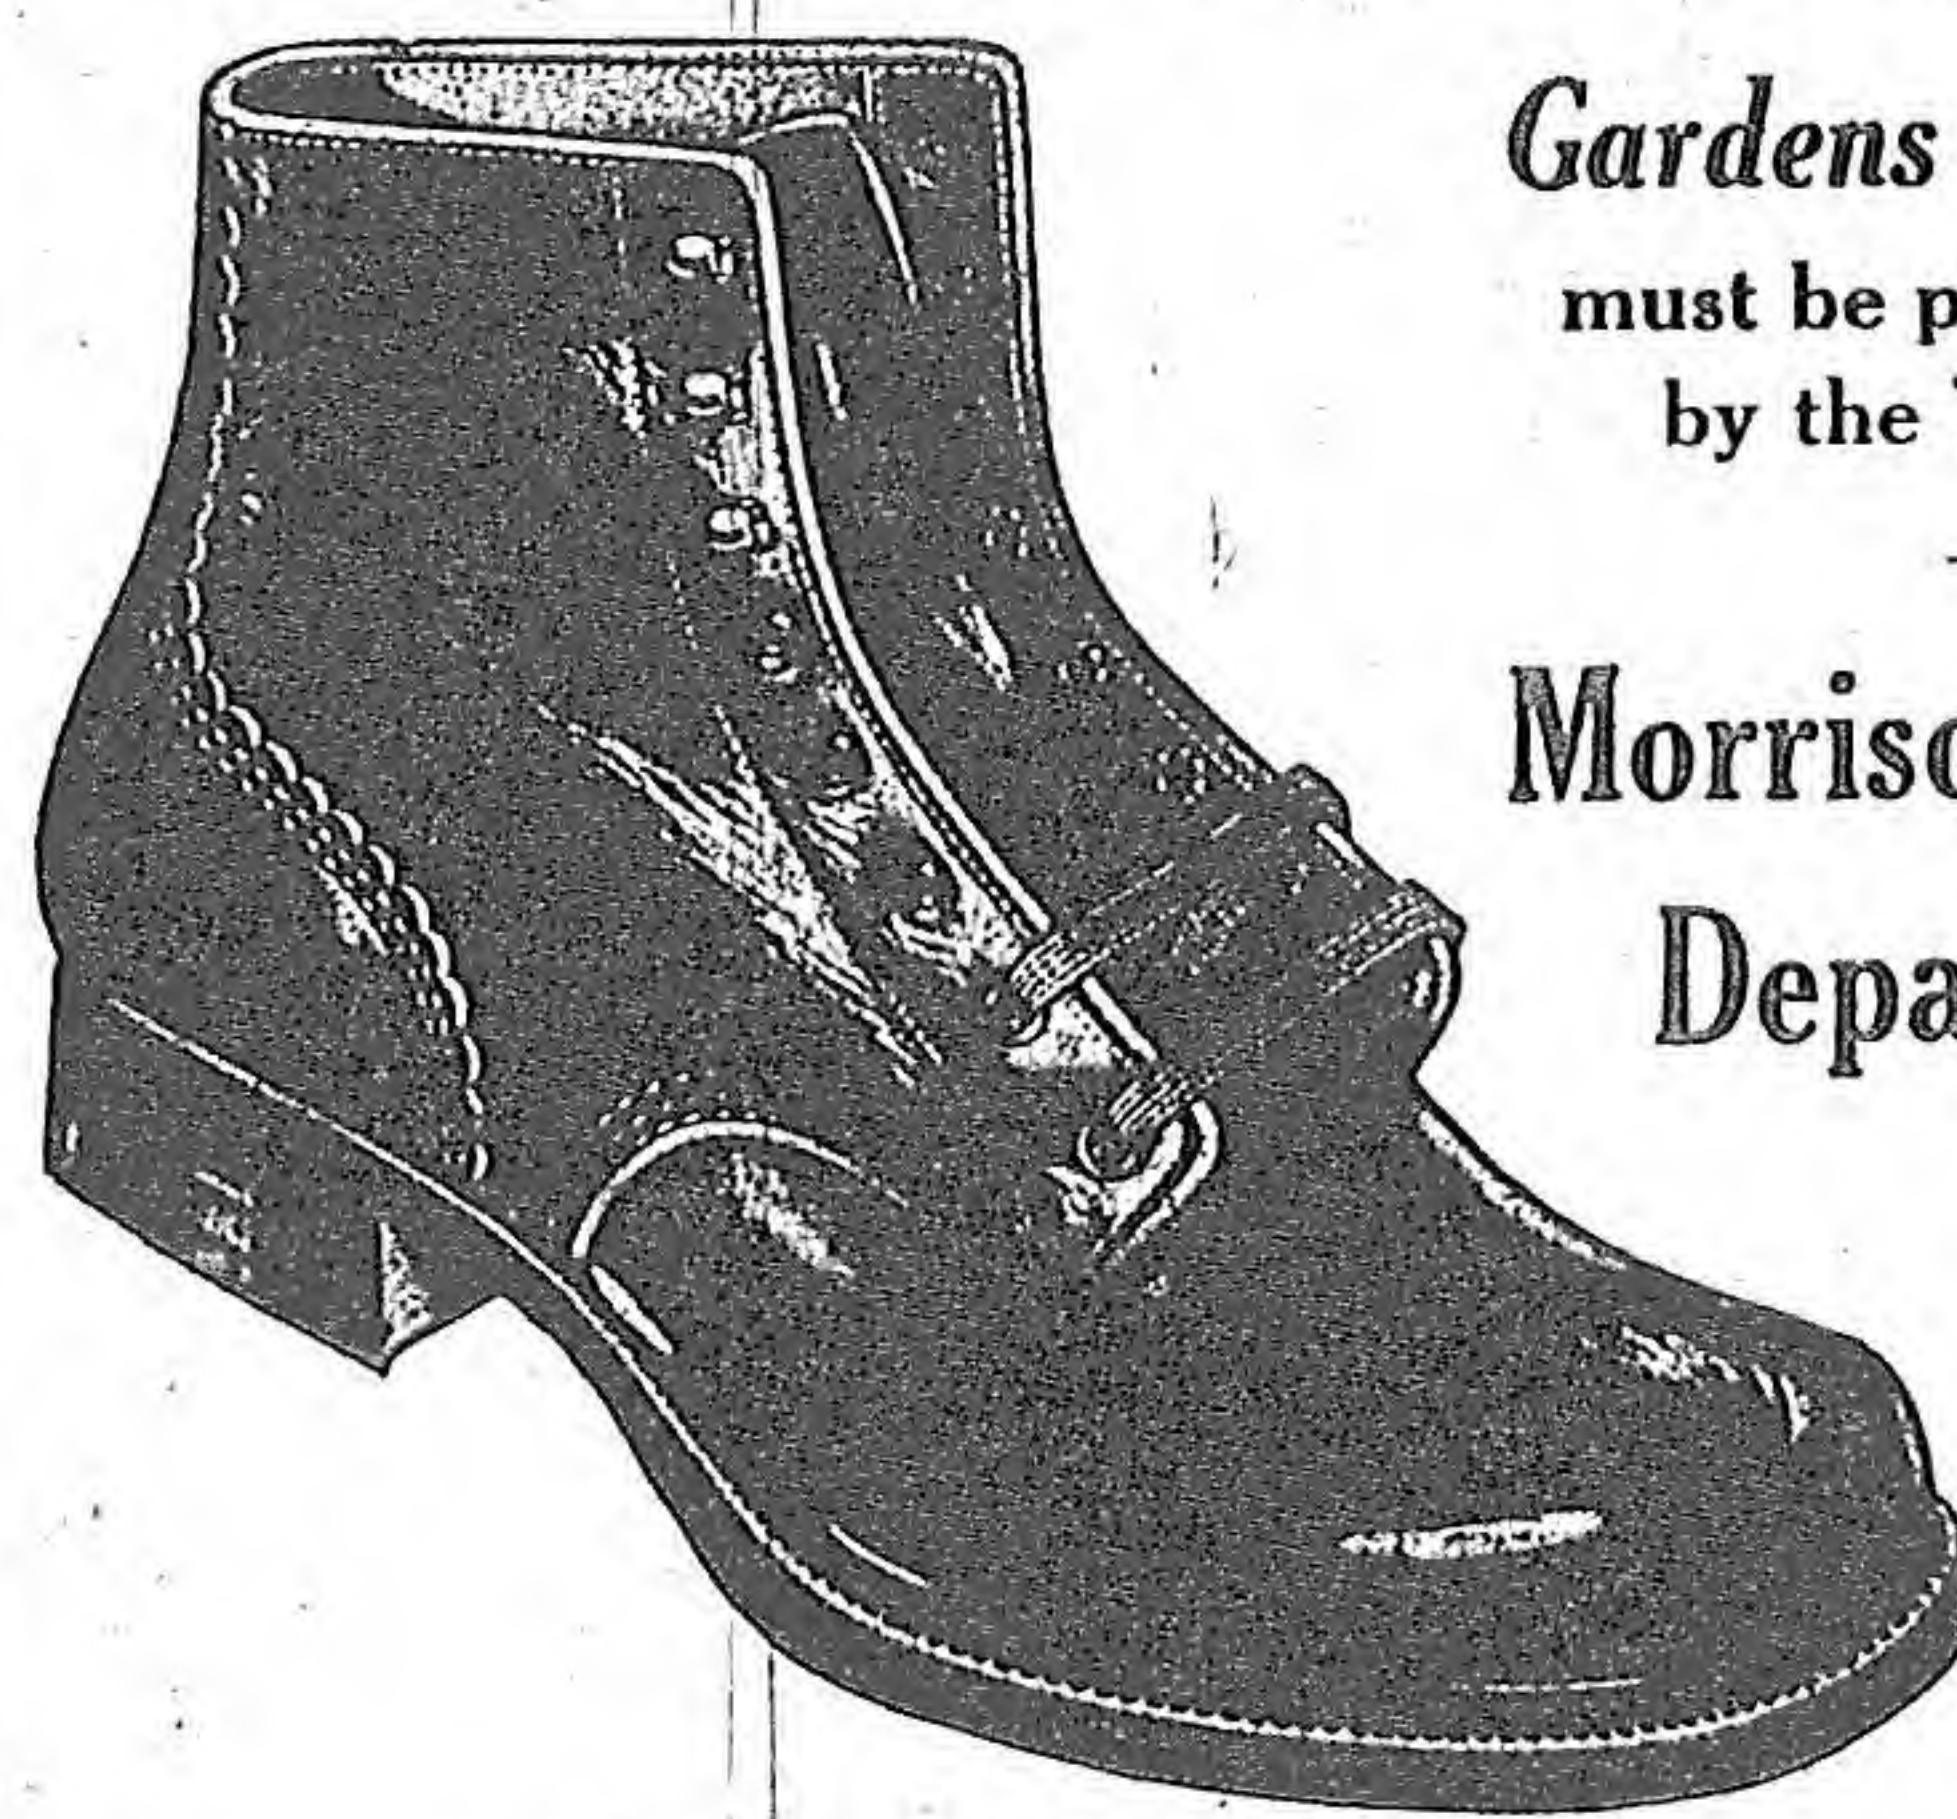

Lines affected by the restrictions are knitting wool, wool blankets and worsted suitings. Manufacturers have been assured of an equitable wool supply for civilian goods. The Canadian Wool Board Limited has been organized to pile up stocks of wool tops, etc., over and above the market requirements for normal demands.

Wool prices to growers, just announced from Ottawa, have a range fixed on quality and grade from 31 cents down to 24 cents per pound. These prices are at least 10 per cent. in advance over those of last year, being based on the set price under the ceiling and the prices at which comparable goods can be laid down in Canada from Australia and New Zealand.

In the U.S. it is figured that the wool from 26 sheep is required to supply each soldier with uniforms, blankets and other woollen goods for his first year of training.

All workers are of two classes—those who do their best work today and forget about it; and those who promise to do their best work to-morrow—and forget about it.
